

THE ITALIAN MISSION.

Given to Wayne MacVeigh, President Garfield's Attorney General.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 19.—The nomination of Mr. Wayne MacVeigh to be Ambassador to Italy took Washington by surprise. The president took nobody into his confidence. Mr. MacVeigh was not thought of for the place and nobody in consequence expected his nomination. Everybody admits that the appointment is a good one. Some of the old time democrats would have preferred if a man of equal ability could have been had of longer affiliation with the democratic party, but Mr. MacVeigh has been a democrat since 1886. He was on the stump for Cleveland and Thurman in 1888 and actively supported the Democratic ticket in 1892.

When he left the republican party he announced that he was not a mugwump, but a democrat. He has never called himself a mugwump, but, on the contrary, he has insisted that when he left the republican party he walked straight into the democratic party.

Mr. MacVeigh, too, it must be said, joined the democratic party from principle. In Pennsylvania the democrats were hopelessly in a minority, and there was nothing for him to gain by his abandoning the republican party. He is an advanced tariff reformer, however, and has been for years, and believes in the general policy of the democratic party regarding personal liberty and the rights of the individual citizen.

Mr. MacVeigh, it will be remembered, was attorney general in the cabinet of President Garfield. He is recognized as one of the ablest lawyers in New York and Philadelphia, in both of which cities he has law offices. He was a member of the same law firm as President Cleveland in New York from 1889 to 1892. He is a brother-in-law of Senator Don Cameron of Pennsylvania. He is not a popular man personally, as he is cold in his manners and indifferent to popular applause. He is a scholar, a man of attainments and everybody admits will be an ornament to his country at the Italian capital.

RIDDLED WITH BULLETS.

Seven Shots Took Effect in Express Messenger Richardson's Body.

HOUSTON, TEX., Dec. 19.—When the news of the murder of John C. Richardson, of the Wells-Fargo Express company, reached here early this morning, Sheriff Ellis secured an engine and caboose and, with Deputy Sheriffs Pruitt, Anderson and Credo, at 2 o'clock started for Liberty running very slowly. Stops were made at camp fires, and in all over thirty tramps were put through a rigid examination, but none of them could throw any light on the horrible affair. At Dayton the Houston posse was joined by Sheriff Dublanc and Deputy Sheriff Duncan, of Liberty county, and Agent Walker, but nothing could be arrived at. The whole affair is as deeply shrouded in mystery as it was an hour after it was committed.

Train No. 19, east-bound, left Houston at 10 o'clock. In the express car was a large amount of baggage, as well as express matter. Evidence shows that there must have been at least two robbers, as the bullets found in Richardson's body were 38 and 44 caliber. The east-bound train passes the west-bound at Green's Bayou, ten miles from Houston. A mile east of this station the engineer says the air was applied, and the speed of the train reduced so that a man could jump off easily. He supposed Conductor Anderson had slowed up to let some one off, and paid no further attention to the occurrence. On reaching Dayton the agent noticed that the car door on the opposite side of the combination was open. He called the messenger, but receiving no answer ordered the train porter to go into the car and awake him. On entering the car the porter saw the body of Richardson lying on his side. The alarm was given, and Dr. Nash, of Liberty, who was aboard, examined the body, which was then almost rigid. The investigation showed that nine shots had been fired, seven of which had taken effect, one in the head, three in the breast, two in the shoulder and one in the right arm.

The theory is that the robbers secreted themselves in the car before the train left Houston, and that as soon as the train left Green's Bayou they shot Richardson, who was at work at his desk, in the back of the head. As he turned he was evidently shot through the arm, the ball passing through and striking his hip. He must then have fallen, and was shot five more times, as five bullets had passed through his body into the floor of the car. Alarmed at the noise of the shooting, the murderers then applied the air, jumped off and reached Houston before the sheriff's posse started out, which was nearly four hours after the tragedy in the car had been enacted.

Several packages of silver were left untouched, and the amount of booty secured in currency was evidently small. The through safe was unopened. Richardson's body was brought here and an autopsy held. The remains will be shipped to New Orleans to-morrow for interment.

Monument for Judge Scott.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 20.—Several members of the Bar Association announced their determination to raise a fund for purchasing a monument to mark the grave of Judge W. Scott, who for 20 years was a member of the supreme court. He was buried some five or six miles west of this city in a country graveyard about thirty years ago. His grave is now in a horse lot, and is unmarked, and would be unknown but for the memory of some old residents. Attorney General Walker is one of the parties who have made up their minds to see if enough enthusiasm cannot be awakened amongst the lawyers of the state to contribute a monument fund.

Speaking of Judge Scott as a member of the supreme court, Judge Bay in his "Bench and Bar of Missouri," says: "Judge Scott became one of the most eminent and profound jurists that ever adorned the Western bench, and his opinion, contained in the Missouri reports from 1838 to 1860, form no inconsiderable part of our judicial learning."

THEY DISCOMFITED HIM.

Could Not Stand a Girl With a Sketch-Book and Pencil.

Three decidedly attractive girls got on a New York elevated train and immediately a score of masculine eyes were leveled at them. The girls found seats together and tried to appear unconcerned and quite oblivious to the pronounced advances for a flirtation from two young fellows who sat opposite. But all their efforts to appear at ease were unavailing. The young men persisted and the girls blushed and looked uncomfortable.

Finally one of the girls opened a small sketch book on her lap, and then raising her eyes she gazed straight at her admirer opposite. He petted his mustache and smiled. She made a few strokes with her pencil in the sketch book, but did not smile. When she raised her eyes again he realized that she was sketching him. The other two girls watched the progress of the sketch and giggled. This, with the smiles of the other passengers, was more than the subject of the sketch could endure. He crossed and recrossed his legs, pulled his hat down until it touched his nose, and at last rushed desperately into the next car. When he had gone the girls closed the unopened pages of the sketch book and laughingly threw away the bit of pencil, which, when picked up by another passenger, proved to be quite devoid of lead.

DEPENDS UPON THE COST.

That is the Way Society Judges the Society Events.

It is merely a way they have in society. The success of an entertainment, we are told, depends on the people who attend and on the smoothness with which it passes off, but well, here is the way the matter was discussed recently by a couple of young ladies who are "in society."

"Oh, Mrs. McPherson's lawn party was much the swiftest of the season."

"Do you really think so?"

"Yes, indeed. All the swell people who were spending the summer in the vicinity were there. It was really quite a distinguished company for a watering place."

"Yes, there were a great many of the best people there."

"And then the grounds were so prettily illuminated, and there wasn't a hitch the whole evening. Can you think of any other entertainment that was as swell?"

"Well, there was Mrs. Ormington's lawn party that was given the following week."

"Oh, I don't think it compared with Mrs. McPherson's."

"Don't you? Well, that's because you don't know so much about it as I do. It cost $300 more."

And that ended the argument.

The Fifth of the Matter.

At the reception in Unity church, Chicago, to the visiting delegates to the parliament of religions, Rev. Robert Collier told a story which runs as follows: A farmer met a parson and said to him: "I remember a sermon you preached twenty years ago." "Indeed," replied the parson, "and what was the text?" "I don't remember the text, but the sermon remains in my mind." "And pray what, then, was the substance of the sermon?" "Well, I can scarcely word it properly, but it amounted to this: 'Theology is not religion by a—sight.'"

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure.

Instantly relieves the most violent attack, facilitates free expectoration and insures rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

BALD HEADS

What is the condition of your hair? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it itchy or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

SKOOKUM ROOT HAIR GROWER

Is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the disease of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither minerals nor oils. It is not a dye, but a thoroughly cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads. It keeps the scalp clean, healthy and free from irritating eruptions, by the use of Skookum skin soap. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on and destroy the hair.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send direct to us, and we will forward prepaid, on receipt of price. Grocers, $1.00 per bottle; 6 for $5.00. Soap, 50c per jar; 6 for $2.50.

THE DIRECT ROUTE EAST.

The Ohio and Mississippi Railway, running east from St. Louis, is the short and direct line to the National Capital, and offers a through train service which is not equaled by any other line. It is, properly speaking, the only direct through car line from the Mississippi River to Washington. The Ohio and Mississippi Railway is the only line running all trains through solid from St. Louis to Cincinnati; the time being less than ten hours; and the only line running double daily lines of Pullman Vestibule Buffet Sleeping Cars from St. Louis to New York via Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia without change.

The O. & M. has an enviable reputation for speed, comfort and safety, and the regularity of its trains is proverbial with the traveling public; in practice it almost realizes the ambition of every railroad management to have trains always on time.

The popularity of the O. & M. Railway compels it to run three daily trains to Cincinnati and two to Louisville, to accommodate its steadily increasing travel; fully 95 per cent. of the business from St. Louis to and via Cincinnati eastward being accredited to the O. & M.

Both the day and night express trains of the O. & M. are equipped with elegant Vestibule Day Coaches and Pullman Vestibule Buffet Sleeping Cars, Pullman Parlor Library Cars are also on day express and Free Reclining Chair Cars on night express trains.

All trains on this line connect in Union Depots with those for points in above named territories.

For tickets via the O. & M. Ry., and further information, call on agents of connecting lines or address G. B. Warfel, General Western Passenger Agent, Ohio and Mississippi Railway, 105 N. Broadway St. Louis, Mo. 4-3-w-tf
